

APPLICATOR WITH PISTON

ABSTRACT

A self-contained applicator with a sealed applicator tip enclosing a liquid or a viscous substance is disclosed. The applicator with piston comprises of an elongated housing with a sealed applicator tip at one end and a piston near the other end with a liquid or viscous substance disposed between them. The liquid or viscous substance is sealed within the applicator and may be extracted from the applicator through the applicator tip when the piston is urged towards the applicator tip.
